MIDLANDS CARRIAGEDRIVING

Two special presentations

Two special presentations took place at Midlands Carriagedriving's Club Championships, held at Catton Park (13 - 14 September).

Joan, widow of the late Edmund Goodwin who died in 2013 while in office as the club's President, wished to commemorate his love of Midlands Carriagedriving with a President's badge. She chose to award the badge to incumbent President George Spencer at Catton Park as it was there, last year, that Edmund made his final appearance. Competitors and supporters applauded her emotional speech; however, the mood was lightened when Joan admitted the actual badge was not ready and had in her hands a substitute, which she proceeded to pin to George's lapel.

Celebrating ten years with the club were resident caterers Dave and Kate who were presented with a commemorative wooden plaque decorated by Elisabeth Greensmith. Dave was also given a pair of flowery green wellies as a reminder of turning up to a muddy Belvoir event with only a pair of canvas beach shoes on his feet.
